During the recent cold weather, causing the formation of large quantities of snow and ice, the additional snowfall during last night, the river has been backed up to unusual height, causing much property damage in many cases, hardship.

In the case of King street many yards and cellars are filled with water, and in some cases the water has even to such a height as to put persons out of commission. A few houses in the rear of King street and of business were today flooded to such an extent as to be uninhabitable and many lives have been lost.

In the western part of the city, especially the western portion of West Ward near the C.N.R. and C.P.R. lines, much inconvenience is caused by the water.

At the lower portion of the street, the water is so high that it is only possible to go to and from the houses by wading long bridges. In a few cases the water is so high as to be so high with the top of the ground level. A few families have been compelled to transfer their living quarters to some other place, and from the water subsided somewhat, but the water is still high.

Uncle Sam's War Shells

Pinglo has lost that the United States is only making two million dollars worth of war materials since the Atlantic, that country's contribution to the munition supplies of the Allies is but "a drop in the bucket" compared to the good things in the United States have been holding in the view that they practically supplied the Allies with shells and other war materials. Some time ago a confidential statement was made to the effect that the United States furnished less than two million shells. Since then the estimate has been made that places the figure at nearly five per cent. Even assuming the latter figure as the correct one, it is evident that the contribution made by the United States is a very, very small proportion of the total number of shells being shipped to the front.

We have generally been led to believe that the Krupp factory at Essen was the largest munition plant in the world. Today the steel works around Sheffield are instantly greater than the whole of the Krupp plant. At least ready supplies of twenty-five million shells have been sent to the munition plants in Sheffield, and will the additions now under way. City will get orders worth of new shells shortly by turning out explosives from its mills. Upwards of 1,200,000 men are employed in shell making in this city, while a number equally large are engaged in the manufacture of explosives.

Today Lloyd George has nearly 5,000 plants engaged in the manufacture of munitions, employing nearly 1,000,000 men and women. In addition to these plants, under direct Government supervision, there are many other private factories engaged in the manufacture of shells and other war materials.

Canada has hundreds of factories doing their bit, while Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and even India are all shipping shells to the Home Front and Flanders.

France is probably more thoroughly organized than in Great Britain and is turning out millions of shells; Russia has taken over plants very much as Lord Grey did in England; while the whole of Japan has been turned into a work shop for the production of shells and other munitions for Russia. When to these resources are added the output of Italy and America, which may be able to do, the conclusion is reached that while the supplies from the United States are very welcome and will help in smothering the German gas, the Allies are in no way dependent upon Uncle Sam for their supplies of high explosives.

Pa sengers Off For the Orient

The resumption of sailings by the Canadian Pacific to the Orient is resulting in a very substantial increase in passengers from the United States and the Empire, of which will carry from Vancouver on March 7, a number of representative Americans, including the Hon. Charles Stewart, Mr. Enlow and wife, representative of the Philippine Government to the United States, who is to leave for Manila, Mr. J. V. MacLachlan, secretary of the American Legation in Manila, who is to leave for his trip, as he is taking with him his new wife, Mrs. J. V. MacLachlan, of Washington, D.C., on route to China on U. S. Government business.

When the weather is nice people want a lot of time talking about it.

Nothing Rude.

"I suppose your daughter will start her school career with some special class?"

"No, indeed. There's still going to be a lot of time talking about it."

His Opposite.

"They say people with opposite characteristics make the happiest marriages."

"Yes; that's why I'm looking for one with money."

A Great Haul.

"Did you save any of the old coins you were going to hang the picture?"

"Oh, yes; I got a whole lot of them. I'm going to use them to hang the picture."

Some One Not Made for the Game.

"I'm not made for the game of being, but I'm made for the game of being made for."

May I Kiss You?

"May I kiss you?"

"Yes, that's just like a man! Trying to put all the responsibility on me!"

A FREQUENT COMPLAINT.

Some of our manufacturers—whose opinions may be wholly worthless—have questioned the ability of recruiting in their factories and have complained that men have been taken away from the town to the military camps. They have advised the Government that this for some other form of administrative activity is improper.

It is the opinion of the country in peace and war are necessarily of final importance. They have been supplied when instant action did follow upon their coming upon the scene.

It may do harm, says the Toronto News, to suggest to all our people, who are necessarily all a section of the view of the problems of Canada, that the sudden appearance of a friction-point in one part of the machinery is of sufficient importance to stop the whole mill. Ministers of the Crown must have a wider view of the general situation. They see the interests of the country as a whole as well as of the Eastern manufacturer of the laborer and the soldier of the poor man and the millionaire. It is not yet clear that the annoyance of a millionaire is of more importance than the Canadian country than the trouble of a small household or the neglect of a returned soldier.

SUN LIFE OF CANADA

In Strongest Position in Its History—Annual Statement During Favorable Conditions.

As will be seen from the excellent financial report of the year's operations set forth elsewhere in this issue, Canada's largest and most representative life insurance company has just closed a highly satisfactory year. During the year 1915, the books of the Sun Life of Canada have now crossed the $23,000,000 mark, assured income during the preceding year of $1,500,000, the largest amount ever issued by a Canadian life office. It is gratifying to Canadians to note that new business written during 1915 in Canada showed an increase of $7,466,661 over the figure for 1914. During the year 1915, the Sun Life of Canada paid policyholders in death claims, married endowments, profits, etc. (the sum of $2,719,787), brought the total payments to policyholders during 1915 to over $52,000,000. Other features which are worthy of note are an increase of no less than $10,000,000 in assets, which now stand at over $74,300,000, and an increase of $1,300,000 in net surplus, which totals $7,454,000.

From the standpoint of the Company's policyholders it is noteworthy that the Company's scale of increasing policy-dividends will be maintained for the present year, in accordance with which five-year and ten-year dividends have been increased, larger dividends during 1916 than those received by similar policies in 1915.

Together, such a showing will be added to the Company's many policyholders and indicates that this conservatively managed company is in an even stronger position today than at any time in its forty-five years' history.

CANADIAN FIRE LOSSES.

At the request of nearly 24 Boards of Trade and municipal Councils throughout the Dominion, the Commission of Conservation investigated and reported on Canadian fire losses for the year 1915. The report is a terrible fire wastage. Canada's fire losses per capita of population are described as greatly in excess of those of any other civilized country. In peace times these losses are estimated as six times greater than those of Great Britain, Germany, or Germany, and insurance premiums are correspondingly high. In the past ten years, the average annual loss in British cities has been by 50 cents per head, as against an annual average loss of $5.35 per head in Canadian cities from Halifax to Vancouver, with an average rate of premium in British cities of but 23 cents per $100 of insured value, as against an average of 3.45 in Canadian cities. If Canada could attain the level of insured value, as against an average of 3.45 in Canadian cities. If Canada could attain the level of insured value, as against an average of 3.45 in Canadian cities.

In the Ontario Legislature on its 15th day, March 7, 1916, the Ontario Government, in its annual report, stated that it had received from the Government on account of the war, $1,200,000.00 in the form of a loan, which it would convert into $1,200,000.00 when all the taxes were paid.

Thinks Germany Will Help Him

Woman Tells of Hostages of War—Believes Finest the Kaiser Will Assist Him

EL PASO, Tex., March 12.—Mrs. Maude Heide Wright, the American woman who rode into the city of the Villains troops preceding the war on the Canadian N.M.A. in June today awaiting the arrival of her husband, who was taken from her by a German plane, said that she was confident that the Kaiser would help her.

He told his officers how he would take the town of Cologne, and when the United States tried to take the Mexican Government, and Japan would take the German Government."

"I believed this, Germany, I have often told me, that I have seen from time to time. Whether some agent of these two countries are making money, or whether it is a man who came to me, I do not know. But he is convinced that he will be assisted in the fight he has started."

Friend of Late President Diaz in the Tomb, Unable to Raise Bail of $1,000—Billmore to a $30 Fiat Alleged to Have Brought in Diamond Necklaces to Live on Till Mexican Revolution Ends Cecilio Ocon, once a friend of President Diaz and one of the wealthiest men in Mexico, and still the owner of great possessions in Tampico, where he values at $100,000, after being released from death at the hands of Hiram Bingham, the late President, spent last night in the Tomb with his agent, Pablo A. Lopez, in default of $1,000 bail each. They were held for a moment's hearing yesterday afternoon in the United States of the day on a necklace of diamonds set in platinum.

Ocon, who lived with his wife and four children in Mexico City, was one of the refugees transported from Veracruz to Havana in the late 1900s. He was in the United States in 1914, but his funds ran out and he took refuge at 255 Columbus avenue at $10 a month.

He has been negotiating with general officers concerning the Tampico coal convention and the coal mines at a cost of $1,000,000, but was not successful. Meanwhile, in his need for ready money, he thought of the diamonds he had left in Mexico City, worth about $1,000. To get it over, it is charged that Lopez made a trip to the United States and returned on February 22, and he was arrested on the Ward line steamer.

It is alleged, Lopez delivered fifty diamonds, and sold them about the necklace, on which they have been valued at $1,000. After he had delivered it to Ocon, it is alleged, he was instructed to take it to some 70th avenue jewelry store to sell. The price he expected was too large, and his agents refused it, but the report of the investigation was that the diamonds were sold to a shop where it had been left for examination.

Ocon was prominent in the events of Mexico City in 1912, which resulted in the overthrow of President Diaz. On May 24 of that year, he was charged by Querido Magallon, who later became Minister of Foreign Affairs, with being the agent master of Gustavo Maestas, a brother of the late President. Maestas' denunciation was made in connection with a demand for an appropriation of $10,000 to be paid to Ocon for services rendered to the Government.

When General Gavieta made his spectacular capture from Mexico with Ocon and Jose Sandoval, then said to be the chief supporters. It was announced that Maestas had just previously ordered the arrest of Ocon and Sandoval. Ocon's property in Mexico City, valued in the millions, was confiscated by Huerta. After his arrival in New York with the late following, Ocon continued to play a conspicuous part in the Mexican revolution. He was in Mexico City in 1911, as a spokesman for the Minister of Militia has been arrested to get the facts. He has been taken to the United States by the Canadian side, and is being held in New York. They have a much understanding in "Santitas" in them, which is saying a lot.

$87,500 UNPAID TAXES

WHO IS TO BLAME?

At a late meeting of the City Council, a statement of unpaid taxes for the year 1913, to the amount of $87,500, was made.

1913 $ 4,283.75
 1912 10,000.00
 1911 50,900.40

Total $65,184.15

Have the electors paid the taxes of them who pay their taxes? Or have they thought of their delinquency money? Let them think of it for a few months, and they will come to the conclusion that it is not to their new taxes, which have to be levied to pay the interest on the bonds, but the delinquency money, which has been levied for the past year.

There is another feature in this non-paying system which should not be lost sight of. It is of no importance to the city, but it is of importance to the city's money in their pockets for years, with the penalty of having to pay fifty per cent, when their unpaid taxes are levied.

years, that is $15, thus bringing a profit of $12, which properly belongs to the city, and which as a tax-paying citizen I had to be taxed to assist in paying the bank interest on money borrowed by the city.

Taxpayers, how do you like it? Should it not be put to such a system?

THE RED CROSS SOCIETY

A question has been asked by the citizens as to the origin of the Red Cross Society, and whether officers in it are obtained from working for the French, and whether they are allowed to wear uniforms, and whether any other information on that subject would be acceptable.

The answer is that the Red Cross Society was formed at Geneva in 1864, following an international conference, the members wearing the Geneva cross, a Red Greek cross, and a Red Crescent, and in neutrality. By this convention, the wounded and the official staff of the wounded and their equipment by rendering aid to the wounded.

USE OF HEDGING,

MUMON IN TRAGEDY.

Tree's Literary Friend Experiences a Change of Heart.

In a recent address at Birmingham Sir Herbert Tree, the eminent actor, related the following personal recollection:

"I had," he said, "constantly reviled the importunities of one who claimed to be a literary man on the grounds, I subsequently discovered, of a blooded swindle for an advertising firm. His constant harping with me was that he wanted to see a glass eye out of pawn. I received a letter couched in these terms:

"Sir.—Unless I receive 10 shillings this evening by 10 o'clock no good will be floating down the Thames. Or you had better be in time will call at the stage door."

"I told my secretary that he had better send out the 10 shillings. At the end of the evening I thought my friend."

"Did you send out the money that evening side?" I asked.

"No," replied my secretary, "I did not."

"I felt myself guilty of manslaughter at the least and was much relieved on leaving the stage door to find the importunate literary man outside."

"Good evening, my friend," I said in cynical revulsion. "I thought you were in the Thames."

"Don't be dissatisfied, sir," he said. "I am not. I am only a prisoner on duty on the dark river who is not feeling conquered, and I've come to realize that I am a champion." London Chronicle.

A Certain Tort.

"The pleader in criminal cases has some strange experiences," says Sir Justice-Clerk, in "Life Jottings, and remarks how in the case of Regina v. Bland the prisoner was so confident at the deed would cause a jury to reject the clearest evidence that the perpetrator was a madman."

"I once defended a case," he says, "and a majority of the jury not only believed the evidence, but were so convinced that the prisoner was sane, that they would have sentenced him to death if I had not moved for a new trial. The jurors sent to see him were satisfied of course, and the sentence was not carried out. I was not a madman, but I was told that while one of them put his finger lightly on the pulse, the other said to him, 'If you feel that pulse, it is because it is about to be banged!'" There was not a tremor or a change of color in the face of either man. The first, smiling, and, looking up, he said, quite calmly, "I am not a madman, but I am quite mistaken."

Not So Much of a Joke.

The late Linley Sambourne, the famous English caricaturist and the life of an engineering works. When a young man he was always fond of playing practical jokes, and a French draftsman employed at the engineering works often became the butt of his humor. This young draftsman was a soft cat, which he frequently laid out on his back, and one day he lay on his peg, and one day Sambourne laid out upon the bright idea of making a Frenchman's cat down to him. The Frenchman's cat was a high life. But when lunch time came instead of attempting to tug the cat from the desk, as expected, he was French out of him. He was French from the peg and went out. Then the future cartoonist bent over the desk, looked closely, and saw that it was his own cat he had nailed to the desk.

Expanded Calls on Women.
The Glasgow Daily News announces that the Glasgow Women's Co-operative Society will organise a recruiting campaign for women to work on land. It is proposed that leaflets be issued to women willing to undertake farm work and that they be entitled to wear special uniforms.

The village will be canvassed by the women's committees, as it is considered essential that an army of at least 400,000 women be mobilised.

Volunteers will be registered and given training in the use of tools and will consist of coast, skirt, cut boots, and gaiters.

It is estimated that 50,000 men have been withdrawn from agriculture, and it is anticipated 300,000 more will be called. Practically only the middle-aged and others irresponsible will remain.

Literary Centenaries.
The year 1916 will be a remarkable one for literature.

monest is the Shakespearean "first man" of the play. July 7th will mark the centenary of the death of another of our greatest writers, the American poet, Ralph Waldo Emerson, who died in the greatest poverty, but was accorded a magnificent funeral in Westminster Abbey, London, in 1894. The author of Walden and Essays of Charlotte Brontë, who was born in 1816, and Thomas Gray, the poet, who first saw the light a century earlier, will also witness the hundredth anniversary of the death of Philip James Bailey, a poet of the Victorian age, who met with far greater recognition abroad than in his native country.

Shed Spoils With Authority.
The Bishop of Exeter, in his book, "A Bishop's Reminiscences," tells a good story against himself.

"One early morning on the quay at Exeter, when a crowd was waiting for a steamer to take away the poor people, warfalee laborers,

...cane-cutters, and others, feeding myself.

"...part like the child in a high voice said, 'Mamma, how old is God?'"

...mother rebuked her child, but a more sympathetic cane-cutter walked solemnly across the quay, laid his hand on the child's arm, and said, "What's the matter, little fellow, wanting to see 'Missie, you ask that kind of questions. He's one of the men."

The Difference.

"Pa," asked Willie, "what's the difference between an invalid and a person?"

"An invalid, my son," answered "has money."

...Bulgaria twice; it looks so much work for the police.

SPORTING NEWS New Champions Go to Winnipeg

DELIAN, Ont., March 14.—Special

Riverdale will go to Winnipeg in quest of the Allan Cup as representatives of the O. H. A. This decision was practically arrived at tonight after the game which gave them the O.H.A. senior championship.

When the question was brought to a vote some time ago they did not favor it. They had planned a trip to New York, and the players were more anxious to make the latter trip than that to Winnipeg. It was impossible to make both, as a number of the players could not get away for a long a period.

However, as a result of the loss between St. Nicholas of New York and Boston A. A. for the championship of the American Association, and the decision to play three games to break a tie to leave the Riverdale trip to New York out of the question for several weeks.

A number of the players state that they may not be able to get away to make the trip to Winnipeg, and this is the only stumbling block in the way of the trip. However, they will be made to leave "three players" over from their business, and it is almost a certainty that they will be able to get away.

If they do go to Winnipeg it will be on Wednesday or Thursday of this week. They are scheduled to play two games at Riverdale, and then to play the champions, and if they win they will play with the final installation of the winners, the holders of the Allan Cup. An effort will be made to have only one game played with the Non-Canadian champions.

CURLING

The curl-fest for the Club Trophies was played last night by rink skipper by W. N. Belair and J. H. Davison, who were scheduled to play in a friendly manner for five shots. It was rather risky game up to the last end, as Belair was only one shot up in the close of the eleventh end. Great excitement was shown by the rink members of the city, as many of them were present and remained until the last shot was played. The rink score was as follows:

F. A. Davidson 8, W. N. Belair 7, J. H. Davison 8, H. H. Smith 7, J. W. Davison 8, H. H. Smith 7.

Battles In Air Won by British

LONDON, March 14.—Special.—The fighting in France has shifted from the land to the air in a struggle for the supremacy of the German machine, with the British having downed three and the French the same number, while other German aeroplanes were seen to descend their own lines, but how badly hit the Germans could not definitely say.

CHAPTER XXXIV—Continued.

He walked round to the back, saw that the room was set, and said a few words to the stage manager, with which she did not put on very well. "Is everybody here, including Miss Clester?" he asked.

The stage manager nodded. "Yes, indeed. Called the quarter about five minutes ago, I suppose I can ring up punctually."

"Oh, yes, give the stars a chance!"

Dahurst started up again to the dressing-room.

There was no one he wanted to see. He did not much care for actors. He was not much of a fan. He was not much of a fan. He was not much of a fan.

"No, I'm afraid you can't see Miss Clester," he said, in a low voice.

"She's not here," he said, in a low voice.

of beauty, but through the wealth it represented.

Conspicuously the procession through the auditorium ceased. The theater was almost filled. The entrance stopped.

The play was about to commence.

A newspaper boy rushing past the front of the house stopped to gaze into the dressing-room.

As he was about to enter, he saw a man in a tuxedo, who he had recognized as Miss Clester's driver, who had "checked" plenty of friends in the past and upper circle, and had brought a couple of boxes of stables herself.

the scenery. For one thing there was not much of it, and for the second he believed—in opening, though not in action.

He watched the opening of the play for a few minutes. There he was called away to the office behind stage room.

He wanted him to see Miss Clester's entrance on the telephone. At seven he was free to see Miss Clester's entrance.

He was anxious not to miss Miss Clester's entrance. He felt a little bit uneasy about her, she had "checked" plenty of friends in the past and upper circle, and had brought a couple of boxes of stables herself.

his theatre and onto his stage?

At last the applause died away. It had lasted for an abnormal time.

Miss Bertrigg had been the most popular actress in London at the moment.

The play continued. Dahurst found her sister, watched her move across the stage. But he could not move far himself. He who had once fascinated her was now in turn fascinated.

He had loved his victim, and he had looked at her out of those dreadful, terrible eyes and made her cry blue. Filled her soul with fear.

Now these same little eyes were fixed on her because she was hypnotized. He passed a moment to listen. He was checking her. Evidently she was checking him. He had looked at her out of those dreadful, terrible eyes and made her cry blue. Filled her soul with fear.

he came close to face with Justice Vandine.

"What does this mean, Mr. Dahurst?" the latter asked grimly.

"That's just what I want to know," Dahurst replied in an unsteady voice. "The last thing I want to see."

SPORTING
NEWS

THAT MIDLAND VS.
BELLEVILLE MATCH

Editor Daily Intelligencer.

I wish to use a few lines of your valuable sheet to state that the accusations made by the Midland Argus or their informant regarding certain statements made by me, are totally incorrect.

I would like the person who produced this article to be made enough to attach his signature to it.

We were defeated in Midland, and accepted the defeat in a good sportsmanlike way, although one of our boys was checked by a policeman of that town prior to the game. What was the lady who was with me referred to in Midland, but we did not use the person for our entrance. We waited until they came back and beat them under O. H. A. rules, and I finished the job referred for his first year in the business, of my official job produced.

So far as Mr. Hirsch is concerned, he is only one value in the O. H. A., and should not be held up to any criticism of this nature. What was the statements made by the Midland Argus after the game is referred to as to what was between me and the referee that "didn't" in the Midland game? Probably the referee referred to see his statement on the situation in print.

Yours sincerely,
IRVING SHOREY.

Belleville, March 29, 1916.

Editor's Note—Mr. Shorey, who has been named from time to time in the article referred to in the Midland Argus, writes: "I have no objection to the article being published in your paper. Otherwise an answer will have been published before this."

RITCHIE'S TAKING TIME BY THE FORELOCK

THAT IS WHAT EVERY DEPARTMENT OF OUR STORE DID, AND ARE STILL DOING, with the result that our prices this spring are extremely low in comparison to what they would have been had we not had the foresight and the buying power to purchase long in advance of our immediate needs.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS WORTH OF LINENS AND STAPLES BOUGHT ALMOST A YEAR AGO, AND MARKED TO SELL AT OLD PRICES

WE could mark our entire stock of Staples at prices 10-per cent to 15-per cent higher than they are now marked and be perfectly justified in doing so, as then the prices would correspond more closely to the prevailing prices to-day. But we are not doing that. Instead, we are giving our customers the advantage of this forethought and advance buying on our part. These goods have been in reserve for many months in readiness for the Spring Trade. They are piled on the ledges and counters, and anyone seeing the immense piles will be quick to realize that this department has surely taken by the forelock to the great advantage of ourselves and customers.

SPORTING NEWS

QUEEN'S SENIORS BEAT TO-MORROW NIGHT

Look for a Snappy Game as Both Teams are in Pink of Condition

Hockey fans and fans, who have followed the great pastime so faithfully this winter, are going to see one of the fastest battles tomorrow night at the arena if advance notice is so advising.

The Queen's seniors will play the intermediates at the local arena, Friday night. With our old friend Doug Hooton to command the team, the seniors, and a real team around him, it will take some hockey to beat them and that's what our boys intend to do.

Hottelville will have their regular lineup to command, and it is nothing better in this division in any branch of the O.J.A. than the local pack club.

Come, come one, and finish the evening with the supplest game we have left.

How Belleville Was Beaten By Detroiters

Final Score 3 to 2—Winner Outplayed During Greater Portion of Second Half

Belleville intermediates earned great credit in their defeat of Detroit, and it is not without reason. The Detroit boys have only been beaten once this year, so far as in view of the fact that the boys had just been through a weary breaking expedition in which they had Detroit would have had two defeats. It is held right here that Belleville lost in the first half, but in the second half they were in a better position to win, and it is in this position that the boys were defeated. The boys were in a better position to win, and it is in this position that the boys were defeated.

The Detroit Press in their report of the game in Detroit says that Belleville's hockey team put together and overcame the water-skiing game with the Detroit report at the arena as it showed in the last 15 minutes, the contest would have been a close one, but the boys of the local would undoubtedly have emerged on the short end.

As it was, Belleville's victory carried off the honors, three goals to two, in a game which was a real test of the players' endurance. The boys of the local were outplayed during the greater part of this final period, and put together the boys of Detroit had secured its first of victories.

Incidentally, Belleville is the first team to score more than one goal on Detroit in its last three games. The boys of the local were outplayed during the greater part of this final period, and put together the boys of Detroit had secured its first of victories.

First Goal at 15 Minutes.

JUDITH OF BETHULIA

AT GRIFFIN'S LAST NIGHT.

With the season laid in the ancient

East, somewhere in the vicinity of Jericho, Well, we should expect, from the appearance of the country and the words of the people, "Judith of Bethu-lia" by D. W. Griffith, author of "The Birth of a Nation," proved an intriguing leading philosophy at Griffin's theatre, last evening. The prominent features of Miss. Blanche

Steen, as Judith, and the beautiful beloved by her people, the heroine, was an absolute on the part of the playwright, for a more perfect port for the difficult role could not have been achieved. Begged for a powerful scene, the heroine, hounded within their walled city, thirsting for water and starving for food, without the hovering looms of the enemy, submitting to the ravages of the deceitful Judith, the beauty and lei-der of the heroine, was made the subject of intrigue by the fair enemy, the heroine, and the very of
